

TB Control Program Outlined By Health Unit; Cases Attended

Tuberculosis cases within Milam County, reported after the mass survey in May, are receiving the attention of the Milam County Health Unit.

In their narrative report submitted by Dr. John B. Bryson, head of the Health Unit, it was stated that out of 81 suspect and probable cases of tuberculosis reported, 52 have been followed up to date. The breakdown is: 11 are still under evaluation six were confirmed as active cases, 10 as inactive cases, 16 non-tuberculous and nine afflicted. Four of the six new active cases, previously unknown, have moved, died of other diseases or refused to cooperate.

A school health program for schools is being planned by the County Superintendent and Director of the Health Unit. It is hoped that the school health services will be improved in many other fields besides annual immunizations and vision and hearing testing. Some of the other aspects will be teacher observation, dental program, health appraisal and environmental sanitation in schools.

Communicable disease cases occurring during August were as follows: Gonorrhea 9, Infectious hepatitis (yellow jaundice) 1, Measles 2, Pertussis (whooping) 9, Streptococcal Throat 9, Typhoid 1.

The tuberculosis control program of Milam County was outlined by the Milam health Director at a meeting of the Cameron Rotary Club on August 25.

Regular routine inspections of food and other establishments have been made during the month of August. A number of places have been redecorated and new equipment installed. A number of corrections can be noted since last inspections.

Water and sewage improvements are being continued in the area, especially this is true for schools and small private water supplies. One school and one ranch have installed small automatic water treatment units. Several school and private owners are planning to install these units in the near future. The school and school cafeteria sanitation program is expected to be resumed early in September.

The Sanitarian was in conference with C. B. Breedlove of the Division of Public Health Education, State Health Department with reference to conducting a Foodhandlers' school in Rockdale and Cameron during the first part of 1955.

James E. Poore of Extension Service, A. M. College visited with the Sanitarian and a check-up was made on the Thorndale rodent control program. Also a rodent control program was set up for the Industrial Generating Company plant at Alcoa.

All nuisance complaints reported to the unit office have been promptly investigated. The Co-operation has been splendid in making corrections.

Visitors for the month:

C. B. Breedlove, public health instructor, Division of Public Health Education, Texas State Department of Health; Mrs. E. Faulkner, Clerical Assistant, Texas State Department of Health; James Poore, Extension Service, Texas A & M College, College Station, Texas; Charles O. ## Yoemen Edge Trojans 6-0

Yoemen Split T To Meet Lampasas Wing Formations

Strategy of the split T will be hotly contested Friday night when Coach Leo Jackson's Yoemen meet the single and double wing formations of the Lampasas Badgers, of District 21-AA.

Six Local Guard Members Attend College

Six members of Battery C, 649th Anti-aircraft Artillery Battalion will be among students attending universities and colleges scattered over the state with the beginning of the fall school term, the local Guard unit reported today.

It listed them as:
Cpl. Otto G. Zott, Jr. and Pfc. John C. Green, Yoe High School graduates, departed earlier this who won their last game over Waco B by 19 to 7.

Cameron boys, working off the T, have been predicted to come out on top of the heap in District 22-AA by sports writers, while Coach Sam Fowler, stands firm for the wing formations. He stated that he believes the wing formations will enable him to get the most power where it is needed.

Main worry of the local boys will be the offensive roles played by George Geddes a 183 pound junior, and Albert Witcher fullback, who has been tabbed the best Lampasas ball carrier. Both boys are noted for their fleetness of foot and ability to hit their mark with the pigskin.

Cameron boys are depending on the entire unit, the forceful blocking of the forward wall and the agility of Joe Lee Heitman and Jimmy Rettig. Their Cameron Yoemen opened their 1954 football season here Friday night by slipping by the University High Trojans from Waco, 6-0. The boys from Cameron suffered from a case of fumbleitis, as the team dropped the ball six times, and at crucial times.

They penetrated to the Trojan's line several times, but either they were held back or fumbled the ball.

The first penetration was to the Trojan 11 yard line in the first quarter until the Wacoans stopped the drive, and took over on downs. Time was the next factor, when the Yoes went to the University 9. The half time erased the scoring threat. A fumble by halfback Jimmy Rettig on the 12 brought the third golden opportunity to a standstill.

Joe Lee Heitman, who played outstanding ball, scored the first and only touchdown of the night with only '92 seconds left in the third quarter. He scooted his way through Waco men, and with the fine blocking of the Yoemen line, raced 22 yards to paydirt.

Burt Barr attempted to kick the extra point with Joseph Michalka holding. The kick fell short and the scoring was over for the evening.

The game, however, was in full command of the Yoemen as they raced 279 yards on the ground with slick dashes by Rettig and Heitman and beautiful drives by Quarterback Michalka and Fullback Leon Beale.

Michalka attempted three passes hitting two for 35 yards.

Cameron's Heitman raced to 152 yards for the evening, more yards than the entire University team pilled up. Waco's attempt to cut down Rettig's runs only ended with Heitman taking the sneak lead and making yards behind excellent blocking of end Albert Mondrik, tackle Monroe Bayer and guard Laddie Dohnalik.

Robert Pryor, Waco fullback, was the big noise for the Trojans.

The Wacoans made two threats in the second quarter, driving to the Cameron 30 on one occasion and then pushing back to the 34 moments later. The Waco team also contacted fumbleitis, as they fumbled away both of these scoring opportunities.

Steve Polzer, one of Milam county's better conservation farmers, is always among the first to come into mind when asked about good farmers in the area, and likewise he again comes into mind when asked about a farmer that is using cover crops to help do the conservation job on the land.

Steve has about 108 acres of cropland and each year about one-third of the land is covered with a legume. His main legumes are hubam clover, winter peas and summer peas.

He utilizes oats and clover in

Roy Weems Kills 9 Rattler 4 1/2 Ft. Snake In Yard

Postal Receipts Now $59,000 For 1st 8 Months

Postal receipts have mounted to $59,000 during the first eight months of 1954, according to the Postmaster John P. Hays, which is approximately 19 per cent more than the 1953 receipts for the same period.

Hays stated that the Post Office is still using the old street numbers and addresses and will continue to do so until such time as the city re-numbers each block and house in accordance with the new street names.

He added that whenever the street numbering process is completed, the post office plans several new extensions to the present routes, some in the new additions and some in the old additions which, here to fore, have not received service.

The present three letter carries and one parcel post carrier are currently servicing about 25 miles of territory within the city limits.

Legumes Ordered By A. S. C. Now

Over 80 percent of the cost of winter legume seed and fertilizer will be handled by the Agriculture Conservation and Stabilization Service this year, which will enable more farmers to participate in the land protecting and enrichment program.

All farmers wishing to plant legume have been advised to contact local A. S. C. officials during this week. Orders will be taken and supplies can be picked up any time after this week.

Last year over 1000 farmers planted winter legumes. It benefits the individual farmer in numerous ways. First it enriches the soil so that the annual crop production will be above par and secondly it assures future generations that the soil will remain in above average condition.

Returning to North Texas State Teachers College for their Sophomore year are Linky Mondrik and Paul Kunz, and John David Matula for his Freshman year.

New Ben Milam Building Useful And Beautiful In Many Ways

Ben Milam School, the new ultra-modern building tastefully furnished with essential accommodations for the 12 first, second and third grade classes it houses, was made ready for occupancy this semester.

This, the newest of the four buildings on the Cameron School campus, has a pleasing facade, modernistically designed, of red brick, topped with a flat roof.

Spacious classrooms, utilizing every inch of space, feature one entire wall of windows, green chalkboards and individual libraries containing material interesting to that particular age group.

All facilities, desks, chalkboards library shelves, etc., were planned with the children in mind. For their comfort the desks are small sized, chalkboards placed low enough for little arms to reach without being uncomfortable, and other equipment planned in like manner.

When a visitor first enters the building his attention is caught by the convenience of the bright, spacious hallway, which has the drinking fountains located at one green of the unglazed tile reaching to the ceiling.

All of the floors are in asphalt tile, which has a double benefit, it stays clean and bright while eliminating a good deal of the noise in the building.

Each of the classrooms has its own individual color scheme, there are shades of gray, maize, desert end and restrooms at the other.

They are next aware of the pleasing effect of the glazed tan tile which reaches half-way up the wall and then the rough gray-rose and gray green.

There are yet other features

New City Budget To Be Set Up By Council Next Week

Matters on the City Council agenda were limited at their meeting in the City Hall this week, with talk primarily centering around the setting of a city budget for the new fiscal year, and on the condition of various streets within the city.

The new budget will be set up at a meeting of the Council next week. Last year's budget was $67,526 with the largest portion being delegated to the street department.

Only one committee, made up of members of the Cameron Independent School Board met with the council, in an effort to determine what should be done to the street in front of the new Ben Milam Elementary School.

Working on that project has been completed and it was decided by the council that the city would do the necessary work on the streets if the school would bear the expense. It was also requested by the council that the school take up the large radiants located in front of the schools to make more parking and driving space.

Councilmen then decided to repair the pavilion in the city park, with Roy Weems in charge of repairing the floors and the city, itself, painting the building.

It was also decided that the police will be in attendance at the football games here, as they were last year, to assure traffic and

Miss Marlene Rentchler Becomes Bride of Frank Hines At Bartlett

Miss Marlene Rentchler of Bartlett became the bride of Mr. Frank Thomas Hines at 7:30 Friday evening, September 3 at the Central Christian Church of Bartlett. Rev. Byron Welch of Elgin read the double ring rites in a candlelight ceremony.

Altar decorations were an arch of fern and white mums. Palms and other greenery interspersed with baskets of white mums formed the background with white tapers in seven branched candle-bra.

Miss Mary Louise Limmer was the soloist and accompanied by Miss Eileen Sides, at the piano. Miss Sides also played the traditional wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of white satin. The fitted bodice fastened down the front with tiny self-covered buttons with a yolk of nylon tulle with a soft rolled collar embroidered with seed pearls and fitted three-quarter sleeves. Her finger-tip veil of nylon tulle fell from a coronet of lace accented with pearls. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli tied with white satin streamers.

Miss Barbara Bartlett attended the bride as maid of honor. Mrs. Fred Moeller was bridesmaid. The attendants were dressed identically with dresses styled with a fitted bodice and waltz length bouffant skirts of deep pink taffeta and nylon net. Their bouquets were of shaded pink carnations.

W. R. Bunker was best man. Groomsman was Allan Ezzell of Conroe, and ushers were Nixon Overby and Rufus Moore of Rockdale.

The mother of the bride wore a street-length dress of gray silk with pale pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. Mrs. Hines, mother of the bridegroom, wore a navy blue dress with white accessories, and a corsage of white carnations.

The wedding reception, immediately following the ceremony was held in the home of the bride's parents. Miss Peggy Williams of Temple registered the guests. Misses Billie Jean Jones and Charlotte Henry presided at the serving table which was laid with a nylon net cloth over satin, and centered with the bride's bouquet and those of her attendants.

The three-tiered cake, embossed in pink rosebuds and wedding bells, was placed at one end of the table and the crystal punch bowl at the opposite end.

The bride wore away a fitted fall suit of black and white checked cotton with black velvet trim.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lulu Rentchler of Bartlett and Mr. F. W. Rentchler of Houston. She is a 1953 graduate of Bartlett High School and attended Mary Hardin-Baylor college and Temple Junior college.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hines of Davilla. He is a graduate of Texas where he received his commission as second lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Cameron where Mr. Hines is employed as the advertising manager of the Cameron Herald. Later they will leave for Barstow, Florida where he has assignment for duty with the U. S. Air Force in early 1955.

Semi-Annual Report Released By Safeway Stores This Week

Lingan A. Warren, President of Safeway Stores, in his semi-annual report release today to stockholders expressed confidence in the long range prospects of the company's operations and its policies governing competitive action. "Competition in the retail food business is becoming keener and many competitors are resorting to the use of trading stamps and other give-away devices in an effort to maintain satisfactory sales volume", said Warren. "Your management believes that your company's long prior years or a total of $1.83 per standing policy of competitive prices, item by item, and town by town and the progress made in the construction and modernization of its facilities places it in a favorable position to meet any competitive developments."

Total net sales for the entire Safeway operation was reported at $821,863,404 for the first 24 weeks in 1954. This is an increase of $34,284,667 or 4.4 percent greater than total net sales for the first 24 weeks in 1953.

The net income, according to the semi-annual statement was $6,615,971 for the 24 week period. After deducting preferred dividends, this is equal to $1.76 per share on 3,369,521 shares, the average number of shares of common stock outstanding during the period. These earnings compare with $6,192,922 or $1.76 per share from operations plus 7c per share from the recovery of excess profits taxes relating to share of common stock on 2,874,651 the average number of common shares outstanding during the first 24 weeks of 1953. The ratio of current assets to current liabilities was $2.22 to 1 for Safeway Stores, Incorporated (unconsolidated) and $1.86 to 1 for Safeway Stores, Inc. and all subsidiaries on a fully consolidated basis. The book value per share of common stock amounted to $31.73 on June 19, 1954 compared to $29.71 on June 13, 1953.

Warren also announced that on June 19, 1954 Safeway operated 1,876 retail stores in the United States and 140 retail stores in Canada. Average weekly sales of the retail stores in operation were $16,407 in the United States and $16,881 in Canada. Thirteen new retail stores in the United States and 2 in Canada were opened during the first 24 weeks of 1954. In addition there are 47 retail stores under construction, 40 of which should be completed and opened for business before December 31, 1954. ### Leola Lindeman, John Komar Wed In Ben Arnold Saturday

The United Evangelical and Reformed Church of Ben Arnold was the scene Saturday evening, September 4 at 6:30 o'clock, of the marriage of Miss Leola Lindeman and John C. Komar, Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lindeman of Burlington and the parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. John C. Komar, Sr., of Ben Arnold.

Rev. Albert Petrich, pastor, read the double ring ceremony before an altar setting of fall flowers and greenery.

Mrs. Max Schuetze played the traditional wedding march and prior to the nuptial ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Love You Truly" were heard. She also accompanied the church's Youth Choir, who sang, "O Perfect Love."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a white dress of lace, net and taffeta. The bodice was designed with a high neck, accented with a Peter Pan collar. Her long sleeves extended to a point at her wrists. The lace of the bodice extended deep into the waltz-length skirt, where at the mid-skirt, ended in scallops. Net was applied at the scallops and fell over the softly gathered taffeta skirt. Self covered buttons completed the back of the bodice. The bride's shoulder length veil was caught by a crescent shaped cap, sprinkled with rhinestones and pearls. She wore a small black and gold cross, a gift from the groom. Her bouquet was a deep throated white orchid, atop a white Bible, surrounded by Pom Pom mums and entwined with seed pearls and satin streamers.

Mrs. Gene Friemel of Cameron was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. D. S. Jaynes, sister of the groom and Miss Alice Lucko, cousin of the bride. The attendants wore strapless dresses of net over taffeta. A stole made of matching net fastened at each side of the shoulders. The matron of honor wore toast, while the bridesmaids wore gold and Nile green. Their headpieces were matching net ruffles over taffeta. Each wore gold earbobs, a gift of the bride, and gold shoes. They carried bouquets of bronze mums.

Bestman was Gene Friemel of Cameron. Groomsmen were Raymond Lindeman, brother of the bride, of Burlington and Bill Creman of Cameron. Serving as ushers and lighting the candles were Jack Small and Stewart Perkins, both of Cameron.

Kathryn Gelner, niece of the bride of Cameron, was the flower girl. She was dressed in a white gown made similar to the brides and wore a white net headpiece made of ruffles. She carried a bouquet of mums.

Carrying the rings on a white satin pillow was Jack Edward Stidham, Jr., of Lampasas, nephew of the groom. He wore a navy blue coat with white trousers.

Both the mother of the bride and the mother of the groom wore grey dresses with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for the immediate families, close friends and wedding party was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Cameron.

The bride's table was laid with a white cloth and centered with the three tiered wedding cake, that was iced white and decorated with white rosebuds. The cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and rested on a reflector, that was surrounded by daisies and net ruffling. A barbecue supper was served to those present, after which Mrs. Alfred Gelner, sister of the bride, cut the cake.

For a short wedding trip to Austin, the bride wore a two piece brown rayon acetate suit

Miss Betty Burdette of Buckholts Weds Mr. Logan Wendler Saturday

Miss Betty Ray Burdette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Burdette of Buckholts became the bride of Logan Wendler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wendler of Holland Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at St. John's Lutheran church in Bartlett.

Rev. Walter G. Probst, pastor, read the double-ring rites in a candlelight ceremony.

Pink-crowned asters and ferns decorated the altar. White tapers in seven-branched candelabra completed the scene.

Mrs. Edward Goodnight of Bartlett played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Miss Grace Brigham of San Marcos, college roommate of the bride, who sang.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz-length gown of lace over taffeta. The full skirt fell from a fitted bodice fashioned with low round-neckline and fitted three-quarter length sleeves. The flower design of the lace, over the entire gown, was centered with sequins and pearls.

The bride's only jewelry was a single strand of pearls. She wore a crown of seed pearls, to which was attached a tiny face veil. Her bridal bouquet was of white gardenias and tuberose, with white satin streamers.

She carried out the traditional something old, new, borrowed and blue, and wore a penny in her shoe.

Maid of honor was Miss Ruby Burdette, sister of the bride. She wore a waltz-length gown of blue frosted organdy, and carried a bouquet of pink-crowned asters tied with pink satin streamers.

Kenneth Lindemann of Houston was best man. Lighting the candles and serving as ushers were Glenwood Wendler, brother of the bridegroom and Charles Krause, cousin of the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Bartlett American Legion hall.

Centering the lace-laid refreshment table was a four-tiered wedding cake, on a reflector. Iced in white, the cake was trimmed with pink rosebuds, and topped with a miniature bridal couple.

The bride's table was covered with white linen and centered with her bridal bouquet, and that of her attendant. Pink candles burned in crystal holders.

Miss LaNelle Kuehl of Cameron presided at the bride's book. Miss Kathryn Krause was in charge of the gifts.

Mrs. Wendler, mother of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Burdette, the bride's mother, wore dresses of navy blue, with white accessories and corsages of white carnations.

New products created 45,000 G-E jobs in the last nine years

And hundreds of new ideas are now being developed to keep employment high and help America live better

Tower of time cards shows jobs created by new G-E products. In a single pile, they'd reach 5 stories high.

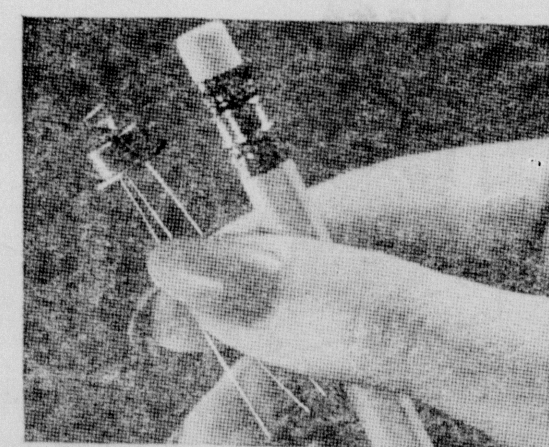

One out of every five people working at General Electric owes his job to products G. E. didn't make before 1945.

Will coming years bring as much progress?

Actually, we believe there will be more. Many exciting possibilities are predictable as we learn how to make full use of atomic energy. Another important new development will be electronic machinery which will make work easier, production swifter—and create more jobs. New uses for gas turbines promise improved air, rail and ship transportation, and better power plants for industry. Research will make home appliances even more helpful.

All these fields—and many others—are so promising that we expect to produce more in the next ten years than in all the previous 75 years of our existence. As we see it, in a free economy, America's industrial progress is not only continuing, it's rapidly accelerating.

Tiny job maker. The G-E transistor, not much bigger than a pencil eraser, does the work of a full-sized vacuum tube. It makes possible a wide variety of new electronic devices which will make your life more pleasant in the future and give employment to thousands of people.

Progress Is Our Most Important Product

1st Lt. T. F. Aschenbeck, USMC, whose military career began during World War II in the Merchant Marine with subsequent tours in the Navy and Marine Corps, was decorated last week for meritorious service during the Korean Conflict.

For meritorious achievement as a platoon commander on the main line of resistance in Korea last year, 1st Lt. T. F. Aschenbeck, now undergoing flight training here, was presented the Commendation Ribbon with Medal Pendant and Combat "V" last week. The award was presented by Capt. Paul Masterton, Commanding Officer.

The citation accompanying the decoration reads in part:

"1st Lt. Aschenbeck capably led his platoon in the construction and defense of battle positions while under heavy fire, and on one occasion while engaged in the construction of tactical barbed wire entanglements in front of his position was seriously wounded when an enemy mortar shell exploded nearby."

The citation was signed by Maj. Gen. R. McCate, USMC, Commanding General of the First Marine Division.

Lt. Aschenbeck began his career in the Marine Corps as an enlisted man. While attending Aviation Machinists' Mate school in Memphis, Tenn., Pvt. Aschenbeck was recommended for a commission by his Adjutant, Capt. Lytle Tope, USMC. After OCS and a tour of duty in Korea, Lt. Aschenbeck applied for flight training and reported to Pre-Flight in February of this year. Now in C stage here at Whiting, he is assigned as a student of the same Capt. Tope who originally helped the Marine to obtain his commission.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Abel, Jr. and children are now on their vacation and are expected to return the first of next week. Mr. Abel is manager of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce.

V. W. Pannell, who is associated with the J. R. Reed Music Co. in Austin, recently was a business visitor in Cameron.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Lake were recent visitors in the city.

Two - Horse - Power School Bus

Lu Wane Asher

Yoe High School, Cameron
(EDITORS NOTE: The following article was written by Lu Wane Asher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Asher, while she was a senior student of Yoe High School. Lu Wane prepared the historical report of the earliest school transportation in Milam County for the Junior Historian's state contest. Although Lu Wane's paper did not win first place, it was among those considered to be the best. The article appeared in the September, 1954 issue of the JUNIOR HISTORIAN, a magazine published by The Texas State Historical Association six times during the school year. The local high school organization is sponsored and directed by Miss Ada Margaret Smith, social science instructor in Yoe High School. Lu Wane graduated with 1954 senior class as an honor student and is presently enrolled for her first year of college work at Baylor University, Waco.)

In the summer of 1916 the people of Tyson, Port Sullivan, and Branchville consolidated their schools into one large school at Branchville. Because Port Sullivan was four miles east of Branchville and Tyson was four miles west, the citizens of the three communities realized that some method of transportation would be needed. To satisfy this need a special order was sent to the Spalding Wagon Company in Fort Wayne, Indiana, for two school buses, to cost three hundred dollars each.

The carriages, drawn by two horses, had rubber tires and could carry about twenty students. Fourteen of the boys and girls sat facing each other on leather-cushioned seats fastened to the walls of the carriage, and the other six sat on a "straddle seat" which ran the length of the bus. The driver had a single seat in front from which he guided the team of horses. To keep out the rain and weather, the carriages were enclosed by waterproof materials and glass windows. H. H. Pruett, who taught in Branchville in 1916 and later became Milam County Superintendent of Schools, declares that these buses were comfortable although today's school students might consider them primitive.

The townspeople of the three communities took turns in furnishing the horse teams for the carriage, and the school provided the feed and a driver. For one month in 1916 the feed bill for the horses amounted to $12.75, while the driver's salary was $60.

Children from Tyson and of Port Sullivan met at their old school building to catch the bus. Those who lived on the road to Branchville were picked up along the way. The buses did not go off the main road.

People came from miles around to see the "new-fangled contraption," the school bus. It was not unusual on Friday afternoon to have several visitors at the school to see the new carriages take up their cargo of boys and girls.

Those horse-drawn carriages, with the words Branchville Common School District, Number 64, painted on their sides, were among the first vehicles of public school transportation in Texas. Leon R. Graham, Director of Texas School Transportation, states that although public school transportation is mentioned briefly in the State Department of Education Report for 1912, the first year rural aid was given to schools in order that they might have transportation was the school year of 1915-16. The Milam County area has one of the finest transportation systems in the state. A total of sixty-three buses transport more than two thousand school children to and from school each day. The buses travel more than three thousand miles daily, with a yearly total of more than one-half million miles or twenty times around the earth.

Yes, the historical value of those carriages is priceless, but probably even greater than their historical value is the fact that they came into operation because the citizens of those communities had the interest and progressive spirit to want more and better opportunities for their children. This interest and spirit has been the very reason for the outstanding achievements that our Texas public schools have made in their last hundred years of existence.

rotation, managing it so that the clover is left there long enough to get good root penetration into the subsoil. When winter peas are used they are managed as a green manure crop and turned spring. The summer peas are usually interplanted with corn, using 4 rows of corn and 2 rows of peas.

Steve believes that his cover crop program has a very important part in helping to control his erosion and increase the production on his farm. This year his cotton land following both winter peas and clover is producing better than one-third bale an acre in spite of the dry weather.

Mr. Polzer is a strong believer in legumes, but he puts a lot of emphasis on management of the legumes so that they will do the job that they are meant to do.
